glam™ alumni network

Learn.
Connect.
Network.

Welcome to our new GLAM Alumni Network. More than 500 women over 8 years have attended GLAM programs in Sydney, Canberra and Darwin. This is your network where you can learn new skills, exchange experiences and knowledge, and embrace networking opportunities.

Our GLAM Alumni includes engineers, accountants, defence officers & leaders, IT professionals, health care professionals, public servants, mining and construction, and many other industries; a wealth of experience to share.

OUR ALUMNI PROGRAM OFFERS:

- » Monthly newsletters with news, views and alumni updates
- » One-day alumni development seminars each financial year in Canberra and Sydney. It is possible to attend one, or more, seminars.
- » Inspiring guest speakers.

COST PER SEMINAR PER ATTENDEE = $990 INCLUDING GST. MEALS INCLUDED.

Our Alumni development seminars are only open to past GLAM participants; however, each attending participant may invite one paying guest, who past participants believe may benefit from one of our GLAM programs.

Developing your EQ & Resilience

According to Harvard Business School research, the greatest predictor of success in the future will not be in an individual's IQ, it will be their EQ (Emotional Intelligence), and their resilience. This requires individuals to be able to read others, build collaborative relationships and deal with personal or professional challenges and setbacks, to move forward in new, positive ways.

Are you, your people and your organisation emotionally intelligent and resilient?

Breaking Down Generational Barriers @ Work

Each generation in the workplace has different expectations of the organisation, career management and their leaders, and are motivated by different things. Understanding these differences and harnessing the uniqueness of each generation enables managers and leaders to motivate and manage each generation for maximum employee engagement.

And generation Z has arrived at work!
